A motion for forfeiture of the $750 cash bail deposited by Morris Perlishitz sometime ago as security for the payment of $7 a week for the support of his child, whom he is charged with having abandoned, which was returnable before Judge Fowler in Ulster county court on Wednesday was adjourned.

His failure to keep up the payments for the child's support resulted in a motion by District Attorney Weaver for forfeiture of the bail in order that it might be applied to District Attorney Traver submitted a letter he had received from a Jacob, chairman of the Alimony Recipients' Protective Association, protesting the action taken against Mr. Kahitz, stating that:

FLOODS STILL EATING AT HEART OF THE SOUTH

Suffering is still intense in the Mississippi Valley flood regions. Many are still in levee camps, and many, returning to their homes are finding the ruin ruins.

(International Illustrated News)

Floods Cost Mississippi Farmers Dear; Refugees Face Vain Struggle

VICKSBURG, (I-I-N Special).—Like an enormous hand the flood waters still stretch over the lower Mississippi Valley. Vast, muddy fingers stretch into the heart of one of the richest areas in the country.

Most of the United States forgot about the flood when the waters started to subside. But the waters are slow in receding, and here in the heart of the flood area, the tragedy will not be forgotten in a generation.

Miles upon miles of once fertile land are still under water, miles upon miles of soil are covered with sand and slime, and thousands upon thousands face charity or starvation. Refugees camps are still in existence. As fast as is possible refugees are being sent back to their homes. In many cases the refugees have started out, found the waters still covering their land and have been forced to return.

More often they have come to the land that once was theirs, to find their houses and barns washed away—"heading toward the Gulf," they say—or the remnants buried in mud. The once fertile soil is covered with sand in many places, making it unsuited for crops without great tilling, and torn with huge gullies in others.

CROPS FAIL

Farmers whose land was on higher ground have attempted to plant a new crop of cotton. But it is months late, and there is little hope from crops profitable enough to provide for the winter. In other places the farmers are experimenting with soybeans, on the suggestion of Government experts. But it is a crop with which the farmers are unfamiliar and for which the market is doubtful. Corn, planted on a few farms, seems doomed unless summer lasts very late.

Ninety per cent, according to some estimates, of the farmers are destitute. Most of them were tenants; they owned not the land they worked, and all their possessions could be bundled into a spring wagon. Now their possessions are gone, the land offers little hope of profit. Money is needed for seeds and bare necessities, and their credit is gone.

How will they live until next year's crop can be harvested? That is the question that's being asked by the farmers themselves as they wait in the refugee camps for the waters to subside, or pitch their tents where it has passed.

There are two prayers they utter: for a late summer and for federal relief.

The townsfolk are little better off. While the more substantial stores and homes withstood the waters in the flooded area, many stocks were ruined. Industry is at a standstill. With no products coming in from the farms, and the farmers with no money to spend, bankruptcy faces many, and many have gone under.

COUNTIES HIT

Civic divisions are as hard hit as the individuals. Cities and counties, many of them bonded to the limit, find themselves with heavy obligations on their hands, and with nothing on which to collect taxes. Roads and public buildings need rebuilding, but credit is gone.

There are a few beacons of hope.

Plans are being made for the States most seriously hit, Arkansas, Mississippi, and Louisiana, to take over the bonded indebtedness of the civic divisions and to provide a system of credit. Leaders in Congress have placed flood relief next to income tax revision for consideration this winter, and some help may come from that source. The Red Cross is highly commended for its work in preventing disease, feeding, and housing refugees, but it is unable to go beyond that with success. The refugees want opportunity, not charity.

There are a few bright sides to the situation. Many tenant farmers, having been chained to their rented farms for years by debt, find the chains loosened in the general bankruptcy. Many are striking out for other States where there is hope of getting their own farm.

And from the depths of the Sugar Bowl and Evangeline counties have come many of the older settlers and thrust into civilization, such as it exists along the levees. They will return with ideas of sanitation, electric lights, telephones and other conveniences which have never even heard about.

UNDERSTANDING

As entire masses are thrown together in the refugee camps, a kindred feeling develops. The French-speaking descendants of the fellows of Evangeline are finding the cotton farms no such bad companions in suffering.

Many of the younger folks are striking out for the cities. Some, of course, will remain, but others will go back, carrying new ideas into the remotest of the floodlands.

But meanwhile, there will be suffering, battles with nature and disease, and hungry mouths.

sensible drink for business men at noon on a summer's day

APPETITE is indeed capricious on a hot summer's day and it is not wise to eat heavily if you would be fit and keen for the tasks of afternoon.

Your summer luncheon may be as light as you care to make it, yet there is no reason why it should be dull or uninviting. Always you can give it a welcome zest and variety by including a sparkling, bubbling bottle of "Canada Dry."

There is, in fact, no other beverage so genuinely refreshing on a summer's day as this fine old ginger ale with the wonderful flavor.

It is not syrupy sweet like so many cheap ginger ales, but keen and crisp with the delicate, inviting taste of real Jamaica ginger.

It acts as a gentle spur to lagging appetites and brings a welcome respite from the heat. Summer meals are never sultry meals when you can lean back and enjoy the cool refreshment of this famous drink.

You know it is good for you when you remember that it is served in the great hospitals in Canada and in this country because of its purity and quality.

Bentley Shows Art At Woodstock

Fifty Paintings by Local Artist Shown at Old Woodstock Inn For Season—Seeks Cover Wide Range.

John W. Bentley, traveler-poet and artist, is showing fifty of his paintings at the Old Woodstock Inn galleries for the summer season. Bentley, who has lived at Woodstock between his trips abroad in search of material for his brush and canvas, recently returned from an eight-months' trip up and down the California coast bringing with him many delightful pictures of the scenes encountered during his journey.

Bentley has also visited the South Sea Islands, is a friend of Frederick O'Brien, novelist; D. Flaherty, who filmed Moana and lived in the house on the Isle of Savali that Bentley vacated, and has enjoyed banquets with the governor of R. L. Stevenson's Island in the South Seas. From the South Seas the artist has brought two paintings which are in the present exhibit at Woodstock: "Sillafai Lagoon" on the Island of Savali, Samoa, and "Jungle Bordered Malita" from Upolu Island, famed by Stevenson.

From his eight months' wandering up and down the Pacific coast, Bentley has caught poetic moods of the sea, the rocks, the waves; he is almost a poet with his titles. The following give one an idea of the trip the artist enjoyed, the things that captivated his attention: Spanish Cloisters, Sunny Santa Ynez, La Cumbre Park, Torrey Carmelito, Pointe Castille, at Santa Barbara and Eucalyptus Grove.

The paintings also reflect very clearly the artist's viewpoint. He is the eternal traveler in search of the exotic, he has found gorgeous colors of sunsets over the peaceful ocean, mission bells hanging in Spanish buildings, courtyards that speak of a drowsy southern heat, relentless rocks that have listened to the dase of ocean waters for centuries and centuries. These are but a few of the moods reflected by the painter in his canvases.

The exhibit is free to the public at this time at the Woodstock Inn, located just off the green in the village center. The galleries are hung with the Bentley paintings, offering a wide variety of subjects taken from widely separated countries. As a colorist the artist is certain to please the most conservative lover of art, he paints with a truthfulness and vigor that will make his pictures appeal to every eye. His complete showing is a pictorial record of an eventful, romantic and delightful trip to beautiful parts of the world. The visitor will find among the paintings several Woodstock titles, some of the scenic Ashokan Reservoir in moonlight or sunset moods.

As an artist Bentley is modest; he wants no historical record of his work made in connection with this show. He prefers to have his pictures tell their own story, and one is certain to be pleased with Artist Bentley's story of Post-Bentley's adventurous globe-wanderings so vividly depicted at this present exhibition.

"Auto" Derivation
The word automobile was taken from the Greek "auto," meaning self, and the Latin "motus," meaning motion. It is of French origin and is an adjective used as a noun. In its present sense it was applied only to motor vehicles or cars. The word was created to meet the sudden demand for a word to describe the new, or self-propelling vehicle.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 21, 1927.

It is proposed—and it is high time—for the legislature of Alabama to make it a misdemeanor to wear masks on the streets or highways, and, although the Governor of that state "is said to be a member of the Ku Klux Klan," his approval of the bill, if passed, is confidently predicted by his friends. He could hardly do less, in view of the vigorous campaign of Alabama newspaper editors against the brutal floggings by hooded miscreants.

Not content with censoring the living, Italian Fascism is censoring the dead. Or at least it is censoring what the living may say about the dead. Even on tombstones nothing must be said which does not suit the Mussolini government. A commission consisting of a Catholic priest, an evangelical pastor and a Jewish rabbi is in charge of the epitaph department of government. All quotations are checked up for accuracy, for literary taste and for their bearing on public sentiment or government policies. There are censorships far worse and less needed than this.

The legislature of a western state put on what it called a state survey of the telephone service, through a legislative committee. Both the state and federal public service commissions had already put on surveys of valuation of telephone property, as a basis of rate making. But an inexperienced group of politicians was not satisfied and wanted the work all done over again. These same politicians had had mismanaged state affairs so that there was no money in the state treasury to meet state obligations, would assume to manage the state's telephone business. Can politicians who have run a state deeply in debt and created enormous deficits by their mismanagement, manage telephone, railroad and other public service corporations?

MORE BUSINESS.

Railroad men, talking over the American business situation, predict a decided improvement for the third quarter of this year. They expect, for the three months beginning with July, a demand for 5 to 30 per cent more freight car space than there was in the last quarter. Moreover, they announce that they are ready to meet that demand.

If any group of men is qualified to size up business conditions and prospects, it is transportation men, for they handle the things that business deals with and are in continuous touch with every phase of the country's economic life. Business in general has not been bad at all so far this year. There has been no boom, but neither has there been a slump. Things have been somewhat better than the average. Any decided improvement, therefore, means unquestionable prosperity for the railroads and for those who produce, distribute and use the goods they carry.

WHO OWNS THE RAILROADS?

There is general lack of information respecting the ownership of the railroads. Most uninformed people believe they are owned by Wall Street, by which they are used for speculative purposes only. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Capital invested in our railroads has been gathered in relatively small amounts from the people in all sections of the country. According to the reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission, there are approximately one million individual stockholders in American railroads and as many more bondholders, and to maintain the insurance companies, trust companies, endowment funds, pension and dividend agents of all kinds, which are heavy investors in railway securities.

It has been reliably estimated that 10 million people in the United States are directly interested in returns from railway investments. It is hardly worth the trouble, therefore, that failure of the railroads to pay fair returns upon capital invested in them disastrously affects a very large percentage of the country's population.

COLORADO RIVER COMPACT.

There has been considerable discussion over the proposed treaty agreement between two or more States without submitting the question to Congress, both as preservative of State rights and as lessening the burdens put upon the Federal power. Such an interstate treaty agreement was that reached by New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania in regard to the use and division of the water power of the Delaware River. A similar treaty agreement was drawn up and was understood to be accepted by the seven States of Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona and California in regard to the use and division of the water power of the Colorado River, but it never went into effect because in the end Arizona refused to ratify it, objecting that California was too much favored. Later, when the six States agreed to go ahead on their own hook a second State, Utah, decided to back out also, and at the last session of Congress the Colorado River Compact was denounced by Utah's representative as an attempt by California to gain special privileges at the expense of other States.

This looked as if interstate agreement had become impossible, but as Utah has now appealed to President Coolidge against Federal action until the States concerned have settled their differences, the prospect of an ultimate seven-State arrangement has improved. It is proposed for the Governors of the seven, or their representatives to get together next fall and try to reach agreement in advance of the next session of Congress. Adjudication by the Supreme Court has been suggested, but that would involve great delay even if generally satisfying. There are good reasons why agreement by the seven States immediately concerned—if possible—is more to be desired than appeal to the Federal Power in far away Washington.

GOUT.

One of the annoying things to sufferers from gout is the lack of sympathy of their friends when they learn that the victim is having another attack. Gout is a "rich man's" disease and the friends tease him about his wealth, even if he is a poor man, and also about the amount of food he is eating, and the intoxicating liquors he must be consuming.

Now as a matter of fact gout is more frequently found in wealthy folks, more mostly.

Why? Simply because a wealthy man usually eats more meat, and it is generally conceded now, that over-indulgence in meats, predisposes to gout, in people with a peculiarity or tendency to excessive formation of uric acid. Not that uric acid can be said to be the absolute cause, but as is well known "without uric acid there is no gout." Dr. J. H. Pratt points out that the increase in gout in Germany during the twenty years preceding the World War, was without doubt due to the greater consumption of meat, made possible by the prosperity of the people. During the food blockade in Germany attacks of gout practically ceased, due to the great decrease in amount of meat eaten.

This of course does not mean that those who have no tendency toward gout should not eat meat. Meat is one of the greatest body builders known, and in building up folks after a severe illness, or as a part of the diet in the tubercular sanitarium, it cannot be surpassed. However where there is a tendency to gout, meat must form but a small part of the dietary.

The treatment aside from medicine is thus always a matter of diet. Pratt suggests toast, oatmeal, porridge, boiled rice, cream of wheat, mashed potatoes, apple sauce, simple puddings with fruit sauces. Water should be given freely.

Just as soon as the acute attack is over the patient should be encouraged to leave his bed.

However, Pratt, and every other research man working on gout, advise one other thing which is as important as the diet, and that is exercise. The patient should take up some regular and interesting form of exercise. It is the student, the man who sits too much who is most often afflicted. Hence "gout kills more men than simple" as Sydenham says.

Exercise simply means that the heart becomes strengthened, and the circulation is thus able to carry off the waste products of meat and the other "meat" forming foods, and thereby prevent the deposit of the uric crystals in the joint.

First American Jade

Within a year, it is expected, the first American jade in history will be on the market. It will come from a deposit in eastern Oregon, where Joseph Reusz, a German chemist living in Seattle, says he has found it in all shades of rich green, says the Christian Science Monitor.

Some one has been there before him, several hundred years ago, Mr. Reusz believes, for on approaching the incline from an almost inaccessible quarter, he stumbled on a barrier shutting up the mouth of a cave. Removing the obstruction he found himself in a hillside cavern glistening with mica set in colorful walls. Examination of the walls showed that excavation had been carried on by means of a tiny pick.

Tiny but Tremendous

It used to be supposed that an atom, which is so small no microscope has yet been able to make one visible, was the smallest thing in the world. Later it was found that an atom contains particles much smaller. It is made up of tiny charges of negative electricity called electrons and of positive electricity called protons. Yet if the electrons which flow through a 60-watt lamp in one second were set side by side they would extend nearly four miles. An electric current is made up of electrons. You can light a house with them, kill a man with them or operate the heaviest machinery. And nobody has ever seen one, only the flash they make when they are discharged.—Capper's Weekly.

Ivan Summers Has Private Exhibit

Woodstock Artist Starts Conservative Exhibits With Show in Carlson School Gallery—Studied Under John F. Carlson.

A private exhibition of paintings is now open to the public at Woodstock with the showing of recent work by Ivan Summers at the Carlson School Gallery. Mr. Summers is a conservative painter, and his work has found favor in southern states as well as in local circles. The exhibit will remain open daily from 9 to 6 (also on Sundays) until August 1.

A look at the paintings Mr. Summers has assembled will make the visitor want to own one (which is more than can be said of the modern works shown at the Woodstock Gallery shows). He is vigorous in his choice of subjects, forceful in his manner of painting, colorful without being too vivid, and has a variety of work to display at this time. Mr. Summers has a permanent studio at Woodstock, though he has taught in Kansas City, and exhibited throughout the south, where some of his work has been done. In the present show one finds six large snowscapes, one still-life, southern coast scenes, harbors, boats, autumn trees, buildings that sit tight and are really anchored to the ground, negro cabins on plantations, northern white houses nestled closely in the wintery snows we all remember so well, even in July, and also bridges that are a part of the landscape.

This painter is young, a one-time pupil of John F. Carlson, and he has softer technique, perhaps a bit more apparent poetry and music of composition than that of his early teacher. He works with a wide variety of subjects, is not a vivid colorist, but his work is bright and cheerful, above all—true and honest, sincere, showing the artist to be one who travels with his eyes open for unusual canvases. He does none of that green, raw work so often characterized by the Woodstock student, for Mr. Summers has proved himself a genuine artist with mature talent.

Summers is one of those artists who seem to prove that art is ninety-nine per cent work, just as Edison says of genius, for his record has been one of diligent application to his work. His path has been a studied one: his success has come slowly, his talent may be a gift but it has certainly been controlled by his own practice.

In this Summers exhibit a precedent has been set for private exhibits by the conservative painters who have refused to join with the ultra-modern painters who maintain the Woodstock Gallery, and the public can be congratulated on the new practice, and other silent Woodstock artists be encouraged to show their work to an appreciative audience.

"Friendly" Flower Names

A scientific man who indulges in an amateur way his taste for gardening says that he likes to know the scientific names of flowers, of course, but that in gardening the names he cares most for are the common names. These, he says, are like the nicknames and pet diminutives one keeps for intimate friends—not formal, not businesslike nor dignified, but just friendly.

"THE TENDER HOUR"

LAST NIGHT
on the RADIO

Static came and went Thursday afternoon and evening with the usual accompaniment of queer things. At one time while WEEA was clear, having occasional flashes of static, WEEA was almost buried out. The west was out of its early evening but later WEEA, WEEA and WEEA were heard satisfactorily. WEEA was present only in the form of a squeal and for a time there was only a squeal in place of WEEA. WEEA was there as usual and WEEA was especially strong, considering conditions. This reception was on a set that all good listeners will tell you, and truthfully, is quietest and that is equipped with tubes that have been in use for more than 2,000 hours. But there had no radio in summer, you will be told. There has been most delightful freedom from local buzzers of late but buzzers were on the job Wednesday night, spoiling their own reception and that of their neighbors by turning on the whole works. In the early hours of evening, speakers volume filter a blurring noise, buzzes or a new one comes, first, and then every time one performs. Look to your battery connections. This hot and damp weather helps to get them dirty. Disconnect and wash the wire ends in a saturated solution of soda. Wipe dry and coat with vasoline before connecting.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Bradford, England—Promises of women upon becoming missionaries are being broken constantly. If the argument of a woman delegate to the Wesleyan Methodist Conference is correct. She opposed a proposal to admit women to the ministry. It was defeated 239 to 209.

Oakland, Cal.—There's a difference of opinion among delegates to the convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, as to the reasons for bachelors of both sexes. Says Miss Mary Zapp of Pocatello: "The modern girl seldom finds a man who meets with her approval as a companion and who still earns as much as she does." And Mrs. Elva Wilcox of New Jersey answers: "It is all a question of romance which some never find."

London—A godchild of Queen Mary is dancing in a cabaret. Elaine Lettor's father was superintendent of the King's wardrobe.

New York—A life of ease for a unmodel husband has ended. Vincenzo Barbato, 31, obtained a written promise from his bride that she would earn money enough to support him and her two children and also do the housework. A year passed. Mrs. Barbato became ill and had to quit work in a factory. Then, she said in court, he hit her and she had him arrested. "But," she explained, regarding the situation up till the blow, "he was a model husband. He did not drink or smoke. He never stayed out late and he was no bother."

New York—Norman J. Marsh, magistrate, who twice suspended sentences on Mrs. Abby Rockefeller Milton for speeding in her automobile, is to lose his $10,000 a year job. Mayor Walker is not to reapoint him.

Taos, N. M.—Mr. Dawes apparently carries an extra supply of his underclung pipes. Greeted by an Indian chief, he pulled his pipe from his mouth, presented it to the chief, then pulled another from a pocket. Soon the vice-president, Governor Dillon of New Mexico and Jose De La Cruz, Concha, Indian chieftain, were all puffing at the same kind.

New York—The ministry is classified by the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick into three groups—"fat tires, who can't preach, God-given preachers and the large group between who can be trained to preach."

Goes Back to Old Rome
Vitruvius was an architect of Rome, engaged in the practice of his profession a few years before the beginning of the Christian era. He published the book which bears his name about B. C. 25. Vitruvius mentions that floors of oak were nailed with iron nails. Oak floors today are nailed with steel cut or wire cut nails—through the side tongue—known as blind nailing.

Gayly Ornamented Shoes for Summer

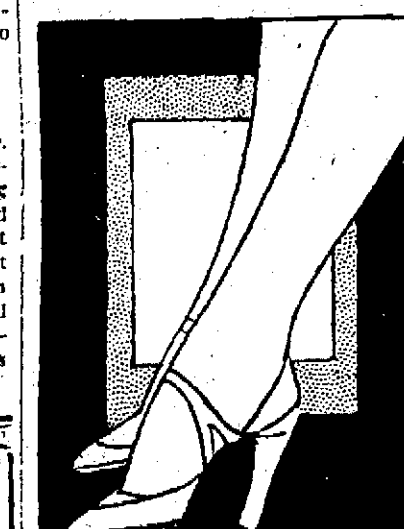

Brocade, Straw, Kid, Novelty Leathers Are Used in New Models.

An extravagant style in shoes for the summer is the embroidered slipper for evening, and gay shoes of different sorts are shown for the country. Dress shoes are elaborate. A unique model is made of rich brocade, with a vamp jeweled embroidery. In this very ornate style of shoe the needlework pattern takes the place of a buckle, but heels continue to be conspicuous, studded with stones, painted, inlaid and enameled. This detail alone makes the new evening shoes exceedingly costly.

Straw shoes and straw embroidery are the latest fancy in footwear for the country and the beach. These are brightly colored and are made in one of the sandal shapes, pumps or colonials. The needlework patterns are suggestive of both the peasant and the American Indian embroidery. This is done in straw which resembles the crocheted sports hats, on kid and even no linen, with which linen flowers are shown for the coat lapel.

Footwear is of more than passing interest this season. In shoes of all types there is a tendency to elaboration such as has not been accepted by well-dressed women since the days of ornate historic shoes. Apparently the boot is extinct.

In the better shoes a much finer quality is shown and in the greater number two leathers are used. Snake, lizard and even shark are made into the smartest models, almost always in combination with plain kid. As summer weather arrives fewer black shoes are shown, and almost none of the violent colors that were worn a few seasons ago are seen. In their stead are the natural grays and gentle shades of the skins, and in plain kids, pretty tans, beige, brown and taupe.

Gray in the light pearly shades is shown by bootmakers who cater to a fashionable clientele, and the most elegant shoes for afternoon and evening dress are sandals with Louis Quinze heel and one strap, made of plain leather or kid in delicate tones of the new blues, rose and all of the latest colors and in light and pastel shades. Kid is considered correct for the better shoes and comparatively little patent leather is shown except in combination with kid.

Ruffles Are Playing Part in New Fashions

The use of ruffles is noticed on many of the dresses in the current Paris collections this spring. Skirts with many ruffles in front and straight backs are frequently seen. Taffeta afternoon dresses and georgette or chiffon evening frocks quite often take this way of inserting the necessary fullness while retaining the smart straight silhouette.

Cyber presents a dainty evening model of cool green georgette crepe in this style ornamented with a strip of straw embroidery. A darker green inset at the neck gives a pleasant effect.

Hand-Planted Frocks

Among Dress Features
In the golden silences women feared coming unaided. Now they fear coming unaided. For the pants get in so easily by hand are outstanding features of many of the spring frocks. Many of these dresses have no other trimming than the series of tiny plants. The latter are so employed that they form stripes, checks, chevrons and even cabaret designs. In other cases they are used to simulate a palm, a hedge or even a boat.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

A Brilliant Red Crepe Gown is Symbolic of the Urge for Vibrant Color That Characterizes Every Gathering of the Season.

New York—In all reports of gatherings of notables, as well as in reports of women en masse, whether smart or not, the dominant feature is color. One reads that at Ascot, England's racing classic was run before a crowd attired so brilliantly that England gasped. One reads that everywhere that crowds swarmed about Lindbergh, the outstanding impression was vibrant color—any color so long as it was a glowing one.

All this is not only interesting, but highly stimulating. The gamut runs from brilliant reds to ethereal blues, from the refinement of mauves to the flamboyance of yellows. It is as though the whole world were drenched in the sunshine of summer and had blossomed forth like the flowers of the field. Surely this present an era of happiness, a freedom from the shackles of care, the world has found difficult to free itself from since the war.

There are the dresses not only of one, but several colors, dresses of charming flowered prints and of other alluring designs, and all in such a wealth of color that the colorist feels say because of the glances the average woman of previous years.

That waist-lines are a matter for individual decision is with the decree of Paris, but that there must be waist-lines, no matter what their level, is another matter on this always interesting situation.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

Here is a good emergency dessert to serve some time when there seems to be nothing to have for dinner: Stir up a soft biscuit dough and fill greased muffin-pans half full. Make a hollow in the center and fill with a little marmalade or jam. Bake in a quick oven and serve with a hot lemon sauce.

Green Apples With Onions.—The new apples will soon be plentiful. Cut them without peeling and put to cook with a sliced onion or two, add salt, butter, and a bit of sugar if the fruit is too sour. Serve with meat.

If you like kidneys, try this: Kidney Dish.—Take three real kidneys and remove all the fat, cut a mild onion as fine as possible, add a small bunch of parsley shredded, add a tablespoonful of butter to a hot frying pan and drop the kidneys into it. Cover and steam 15 minutes, then pour over a half-cupful of sour fruit sauce and serve.

Minted Pineapple.—Shred half a ripe pineapple, leaving on the top and cutting out the core. Sprinkle with sugar. Wash, drain and hull one pint of strawberries, press them through a ricer and pour the puree over the pineapple. Have the mixture well chilled and serve in chilled glasses with a sprig of well washed mint; or a few leaves of chopped mint may be added to the mixture as it is chilling.

Potato Salad.—Take a plate of boiled potatoes cooked with their skins on. Cool, peel and cut into pieces, add one small onion finely chopped, a small cucumber cut into dice, and one cupful of finely cut celery. Add a hard-boiled egg or two and cover with enough this dressing which is highly seasoned, to marinate well. When it has stood for several hours add a thick boiled dressing for serving.

Lemon in some form should always accompany a dish of fish.

Sharkey Favored to Defeat Dempsey Before Big Crowd

Eighty Thousand Will Watch Elimination Contest Between Dempsey and Sharkey—Staking Odds Favor Sharkey—Dempsey Has Trained Hard—Many Notables to Witness Bout—Forty-Eight Stations to Broadcast Event.

New York, July 21 (AP).—More than 80,000 persons from all over the United States will gather in the Yankee Stadium tonight to watch Jack Dempsey stake his hitting power against Jack Sharkey's youth, speed and ring cleverness in the 15 round bout that is to produce the challenger for Gene Tunney's heavy-weight title.

Betting odds today were quoted variously—7 to 5, 13 to 10, and 2 to 1, with Sharkey the favorite. With several brokerage concerns reporting a shortage of Dempsey money it appeared likely that Sharkey would enter the ring one of the highest favorites that ever took part in a fight of such importance.

Dempsey Sentimental Favorite.
Dempsey will essay the comeback role as the greatest sentimental favorite in ring history. That partially explains why the former champion goes into battle on the short end of the wagering. The heart of the crowd will be with the manna mauler, as the nation knew him at the height of his ring career.

Third Largest Crowd.
Dempsey's return to the ring after his miserable showing against Tunney at Philadelphia last year is the magnet that is to draw the third largest crowd in ring history, the Tunney-Dempsey and the Dempsey-Carpenter bouts alone eclipsing it. In both of those championships was involved.

Completes Strenuous Training.
The former champion has completed one of the most strenuous training campaigns a boxer has ever undergone. Five months ago he began work in the Ojai hills of California, and after satisfying himself that he had regained the physical power so noticeably absent when he lost to Tunney, he came east to complete the process of preparation.

Much has been chronicled about the affairs of the Dempsey camp at Saratoga, but when the former champion and his manager, Leo P. Flynn, came to New York last night they brought with them an air of conviction.

Dempsey's Condition Uncertain.
Still, it is the question of Dempsey's condition that adds to the uncertainty regarding the outcome. The Dempsey of Toledo, most observers are convinced, would dispose of the Sharkey of today without much difficulty. But Dempsey today is much older, somewhat slower and there is grave doubt as to whether he can hit so hard now.

Will Decide Sharkey's Class.
While Dempsey's triumph or his downfall will provide the soul-searing drama of the night, Sharkey's performance will decide once and for all the mooted question of his class. The Bostonian's backers are cocksure of him. Those who lean toward Dempsey discount Sharkey's victories over Mike McGuire, Harry Willis and Jimmy Maloney. If Sharkey beats Dempsey he will have established clearly his claim to pugilistic greatness. If it has not already been established.

What Fighters Will Get.
Win or lose, Dempsey will get $250,000 on a percentage arrangement with Promoter Tex Rickard. Sharkey is signed to a contract which gives him 22 1/2 per cent of the gate receipts, and the largest purse of his career. The admissions are expected to total $1,250,000.

Notables Will Attend.
Any number of business, social and sporting notables have engaged ringside seats. Among them are Commander Richard E. Byrd, Archie and Kermit Roosevelt, Clarence H. Mackay, Rex Beach, Irving Berlin, Babe Ruth, David Belasco, William A. Brady, Charles M. Schwab, Gene Tunney, Benny Leonard and Peter J. Brady.

Great Radio Hookup.
The crowd that watches the fight will constitute only a small minority of those who follow the progress of the contest. Under the greatest radio hookup ever attempted through 48 stations reaching approximately 30,000,000 listeners.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)
For the third time in as many days the National League leadership changed hands yesterday when Pittsburgh divided a doubleheader with Philadelphia and the New York Giants, staging a thrilling ninth inning rally, beat out the Chicago Cubs 5-4.

The Cubs were glad to get away from New York where they lost 4 out of six games. The series with the Giants played havoc with the brilliant record McCarthy's club had been setting. Yesterday the Bruins piled up a four run lead early and held it until the Giants put two across in the sixth. Melvin Ott's single in the ninth drove in the deciding tally.

Clarence Mitchell baffled the Pirates in the opener at Philadelphia and Stuffy McInnis's band came out on top 4-3. Although he allowed 12 hits Mitchell was not scored on until the eighth. Carmel Hill pitched effectively for the Pirates in the second game, turning in a 6-5 victory. Cy Williams came to bat in the ninth and drove the ball out of the park for his twentieth home run of the season.

Cincinnati and Boston split even in their twin bill, Jackie May turning in a 4-2 verdict for the Reds in the opener and Genewick besting Art Neft in the second game, which Boston won 2-1.

Two pitching duels resulted from the doubleheader between St. Louis and the Brooklyn Dodgers. Wilbert Robinson's outfit took the first 2-1. Jess Petty shaded Flint Rhem, the Brooklyn southpaw, allowing only five hits to them seven. The second contest went 11 innings after Butler's single had sent Carey home with the Robins tying run in the ninth. The world's champions put two runs across in the eleventh.

The Washington Senators made it four of five against the White Sox at Chicago. Tom Zachary getting credit for a 5-3 win. Manager Ray Schalk used 18 players in an effort to win. The other American League teams were idle.

Colonials Defeat Jersey Team, 6-1

Handolph Winston Harris Good Game for Local Team—Circuit Clouts by Carter and Schwab Largely Responsible for Colonial Victory.

After they had slumbered past three splendid chances to score in each of the three opening innings, the Colonials awoke themselves in the next two frames and unleashed a couple of lusty circuit clouts to trounce the Jersey Creamery Company club at the Fair Grounds Wednesday night, 6 to 1. The game was called at the end of the seventh on account of the lack of daylight.

Two bespectacled moundmen, Randolph Winston for the Colonials and Bill Champion for the dairy lads, pitched away for seven frames and then decided to compromise, as each man allowed seven safeties during the affair. Although Winston twirled once for the Culliton-Robins forces last year this was the first time that the Sauterles youth went to the mound for the Kingstonians this season. Despite the fact that each twirler allowed the same number of hits, Winston had much less punishment to take than his rival, for Champion suffered two ponderous home run blows.

Two Home Runs.
After three excellent chances to score in the first three frames and no action on the Colonials' part they got down to business in the fourth frame. The Colonials had three men on the bags in the first and second innings with a man once in a scoring position but each time they lacked the fight to push them around. With Joe Hoffman already on second, Howie Carter clouted his way to a new straw lid in the fourth inning with a circuit over the hat sign. Then when Bill Schwab stroled out to the plate as the first man to bat in the fifth he had similar thoughts in mind. He lunged at the first ball Champion tossed up and sent it soaring over the left field barrier. The upstarters had already scored one run when these circuits happened along.

The Schenectady outfit brought about its lone marker in the fourth. Roush doubled to start the fourth. Marneil got aboard on a felder's choice as Roush was trapped at second. After Cole grounded out, Vargo singled to right and scored Marneil.

Colonials Score Again.
After a couple of circuits had propelled the Colonials to the fore in the fourth and fifth, they grabbed another in the next inning. Bill Shay singled and Maury McDermott slammed a long triple to right to score his partner. The Colonials scored two more in the seventh. Joe Hoffman was hit by a pitched ball and later went to second, coming around as Howie Carter singled to left. Carter got all the way to third as Kelly was being retired on a grounder. Howie then scored as Shay outran a single to first.

Jack Robins took a rest Wednesday night. He let Joe Hoffman do the receiving for Winston. He also sent Charlie Lay, a local youngster, to the outfield.

The locals let three excellent chances to score slip by in the opening sessions.

"That kid has a lot of stuff," said Robins as he caught Winston in warming up practice. And Randolph sure proved it as he kept the game uninteresting for the visitors throughout.

Dempsey, Kearns Are in Seclusion

Dempsey Trying to Keep Away from Kearns While Kearns Is Trying to Keep Away from Process Servers—Claim Kearns and Walker Broke Contract.

New York, July 21 (AP).—Jack Dempsey was in seclusion today, the secrecy of his whereabouts being guarded from well-wishers among his host of friends and a well known enemy, Jack Kearns, once the champion's manager. Kearns arrived from Europe yesterday with the statement he would make a strenuous effort to collect money he alleges Dempsey owes him under an old contract.

Kearns, likewise, was in seclusion to escape a corps of process servers who greeted him at the pier with the copy of a complaint and a summons ordering him and his middleweight champion, Mickey Walker, to show cause why a suit for $500,000 damages should not be carried on against them for failure to fulfill a contract for a return fight alleged to have been entered into with Tiger Flowers, from whom Walker won his title.

Will Determine League Champion

The West Shore Railroad and Post Office-City teams will meet Monday evening at the Athletic Field at 6:15 to decide the winner of the first round of the Industrial Baseball League. Both teams have won five and lost one. Robins and Bush will most likely be the opposing pitchers. The last game between these two teams resulted in a win for the West Shore.

Starting Tuesday, July 26, the second round of the league will start, games being scheduled for five nights a week. The winners of each round will play a series of games at the end to decide the champions.

Both Fighters Are Confident

Neither One Disparages The Ability of The Other—Dempsey Says He Is in Good Shape—Sharkey Says He Will Win by a Knockout.

New York, July 21 (AP).—Jack Dempsey predicted victory and Jack Sharkey predicted the same thing. Dempsey said he was certain of his physical condition and sure of the result.

Sharkey said he would win by a knockout. The pre-battle statement of Boston Jack was just a bit stronger, but, contrary to the expectations of some, it did not disparage the worth of Los Angeles Jack.

Dempsey said: "There are no suckers in this fight game. You can't figure on anybody being easy. Sharkey is no easy mark. I'm prepared to take anything and everything he has to offer. It's one of us and I'm out to get him. I'm better mentally and physically now than I have been in several years and I'm confident of the result."

Said Sharkey: "I'm going in there to knock him out. Maybe I've been too talkative at times but I've always done what I said I'd do. I expect to do this time what I said I'd do. I feel fine; never felt any better. Nobody ever had more respect for Dempsey's punch than I have, but I'm ready for it."

Will Meet Jersey Team at Stamford

The Colonials will journey up to their ball park in Stamford this afternoon to meet the Jersey-Creamery Company for a second encounter. As Bud Culliton will probably be saved for the Kingston-All-Star game for Sunday at the Fair Grounds, Maury McDermott will likely go to the mound tonight.

Lou Brown has booked a five game schedule for the Colonials next week. Buck Ewing's All-Stars will meet the Colonials in Stamford on Tuesday and on Wednesday the second game of the Kingston All-Stars series will be played at the Fair Grounds. Either Oneonta or Cooperstown will play the locals at Stamford on Thursday while on Friday the Buck Ewing aggregation will play host to the Colonials at Glens Falls. Saturday the locals will play in Scotia. Sunday's game has not been decided yet.

SUGAR BOWLS DEFEAT

TIGERS WEDNESDAY, 16-2

Bill Norton, Gully Sugar Bowl hurler, was invincible when the Tiger A. C. faced his slants Wednesday night at Block Park. Norton held the Tigers to 2 runs while the Gullys collected 16 hits off Dittus. Finley connected for a circuit clout while Garry also of the Sugar Bowls made two hits out of two times at bat. Norton and Kels, Sugar Bowl battery, got three hits out of four times at bat.

Leonard Thinks Sharkey Will Win

Retired Lightweight Champion of the World While Visiting in Kingston Tells Fans That He Thinks Sharkey Will Defeat Dempsey — Visits Slinger.

Benny Leonard, retired lightweight champion of the world, when he visited Kingston Wednesday night, predicted a win for Jack Sharkey over Jack Dempsey, ex-champion of the world, when the two meet at the Yankee Stadium tonight. Benny's contention is that Dempsey has lost the speed possessed by him in the by-gone days and will be unable to stage a comeback.

The former lightweight notable knows both fighters and has been in the camp of each recently in order to get the latest on the ability of the men who will attract a crowd that will pack the mammoth stadium tonight. Benny was on his way to New York city from Jack Dempsey's camp at Saratoga when he stopped here for the first time Tuesday.

He was driving his Packard car and had the misfortune to burn a connecting rod. The auto was left at the Stuyvesant Garage and Benny went to the Strand where he visited Bill Singer of Singer's Service Station, opposite the Rhinebeck Ferry Shed, who was a pal of the retired champion in the days when he was climbing the ladder of success in the pugilistic game.

It is needless to say that Mr. Singer was glad to see his friend and he proceeded to introduce him to the many who gathered when the news spread that Benny Leonard was on the Strand. Of course the first question hurled at the ring notable was "Who do you think will win, Dempsey or Sharkey?" It was then that Benny expressed his opinion that the former "gob" would take the contest.

Recreations of the Great
After protracted studies, Spinoza, world famous philosopher, would mix with the family where he lodged and join in the most trivial conversations, or unbend his mind by provoking spiders to fight each other. Socrates loved to play with children. Balzac amused himself with a collection of crayon portraits. Dr. Samuel Clarke used to amuse himself jumping over tables and chairs, while Doctor Swift exercised himself by running up and down the steps of the deanery. Even in his later days, when his constitution was almost broken down, he was, as Doctor Johnson observed, on his legs about ten hours a day—Market for Exchange.

Resignation of President

If the President were to resign, in whom would he hand his resignation?

A section in a law passed in 1792 provides that "the only evidence of a refusal to accept of or of a resignation of the office of President or vice president shall be an instrument in writing declaring the same, and subscribed by the person refusing to accept or resigning, as the case may be, and delivered into the office of the secretary of state."—Washington Magazine.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, July 21.—The first community gospel service held last Sunday evening in the Grange Hall was a great success, according to the comments of those present who numbered one hundred and sixty. Mindful of the frequently expressed opinion that there ought to be more such services, the leaders of the churches are considering plans for future meetings.

The Rev. Charles A. Hollis, D. D., will present the work of the Anti-Saloon League in the Reformed Church next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Dr. Hollis, who has filled important positions in New York city, Middletown, Peekskill and Kingston, is assistant superintendent of the Metropolitan District of the Anti-Saloon League. He is said to be much in demand as a speaker.

The G. E. meeting at 8 p. m. will have for its subject, "What Age Causes and Cures of Cancer?" Fred Withrow is the leader.

The Rev. G. W. Weber, formerly pastor of the M. E. Church of Stone Ridge and now stationed at Elizaville, accompanied by Mrs. Weber, stopped for a brief visit Tuesday night on route to Monticello.

at the close of the morning service. The evening gospel service at 7:30 will be opened by an inspiring gospel song service, followed by special music, and the sermon on the subject, "The Great Deliverance." These evening meetings have drawn a steadily increasing attendance since they have been changed to a weekly basis.

Mrs. Rudolph Haeber spent a very pleasant day last Sunday with her mother in Petersburg, N. Y.

Entertainment at Home.

One of the events of the summer will occur on Friday evening, July 22, when the ladies of the Methodist Church hold their combination supper and entertainment. The menu is very attractive. Chicken, turkey, fish, salmon and potato salads, baked beans, pickles, cheese, cake, bread and butter, coffee and tea will be served at a very moderate price. The women will also be on sale. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock and all are invited. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock. Kingston Search continues and will give several fascinating church songs. Mrs. J. J. O'Brien will make some very humorous selections and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith will sing popular songs. A very enjoyable evening is promised.

Financial
and Commercial

New York, July 21 (AP).—Stock prices made further recovery in today's market, with buying stimulated by a reduction in the call money rate from 4 to 2 1/2 per cent. A few weak spots cropped out here and there as "bear" traders put out short lines to test the market, but operators for the rise continued to bid up their favorites, lifting nearly two score issues to new peak prices for the year.
Easy credit conditions continued to provide the main impetus for the advance. Such profit taking as comes into the market by the cautious advice of some of the large commission houses, is well absorbed. Several earnings reports were published during the day but they showed mixed results. The American Locomotive Company showed only $1.43 a share in the first six months, as against $3.10 in the first half of 1926, and the Virginia Iron Coal and Coke Company reported net loss of $137, 337 as against net loss of less than $50,000 in the first half of last year.
Tobacco shares were heavily bought on reports of expanding earnings due, in the case of the cigar companies, to economies in operations.
American Tobacco common and the B stock, Lorillard and Congress Cigar all moved into new high ground.
General Motors attained another new peak above 214 and U. S. Steel common was well supported around 126. Brown Shoe, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, Gabriel Snubbers and Radio Corporation were among the many other issues to reach new highs.
Rails were quiet but firm with Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio in the forefront of the advance.

JUST HUMANS
By GENE CARL

"MAKE TH' BACKGROUND AS NEAR LIKE TH' SEASHORE AS YA KIN, JIMMIE!"

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE
BY JOSEPH KAYE
AT 21—Edward W. Bok was a stenographer.
"ABOUT this time I was a stenographer earning $18.33 a week. I felt quite sure that these figures ought to be reversed. And there were several positions just beyond me, too, which I felt I should be justly asked to occupy. But I was not and of course I felt aggrieved. I considered myself imposed upon.
"Now, when I look back upon that time I can see the reason my salary was not $33.18 cents a week was simply because I was incapable of earning that amount—Edward W. Bok." TODAY—Edward W. Bok is one of a very small number of editors who have become nationally celebrated.
Bok edited the Ladies' Home Journal for 30 years and it is the greatest and most profitable women's periodical ever published. He was one of the first who recognized the principles which should go into the making of a women's magazine, so that it could serve the reader and become a good medium for advertisers. Since then practically all magazines of the same class have gone along similar lines.
Mr. Bok also distinguished himself by writing the autobiography, "The Americanization of Edward Bok," which won the Pulitzer prize a few years ago, and by offering the $50,000 prize for a peace plan in a contest which drew international attention and started similar offers in other countries.

FOR THE GOOSE—
THE whole secret secret of the United States can't catch you in a place where you ain't.
You ain't benefitin' your family none
if the thing you're doin' is hurtin' yourself.
If you ain't slovenly, crooked, mean or immoral don't go round lookin' as if you was.
FOR THE GANDER—
The real heavy artist is the one that finds out where a girl likes to go and then takes her there without con-sultin' her.
Every man should know by name one automobile, one opera and one head waiter.
Don't ever let go of a good dancin' partner to run after one that's got the reputation for bein' a good dancer.

Making It Complete
The richest old motor bus, containing one passenger, pulled up outside the Merry Mermaid at the conclusion of its journey from Little Macdonald.
Barnard and pale, the only passenger leaped out, dashed across the road and, turning a handspike, stood on his head, with his heels against the wall.
A bystander stood open-mouthed.
"Great Scott!" he gasped. "Are ye off yer head?"
Slowly the passenger reversed himself to a right side-up position.
"No," he answered gravely, "but this standing on my head is the only position I haven't been in during the last two hours, and I wanted to make the thing interesting and complete all round!"—London Tit-Bits.

Later in the afternoon games were enjoyed, finishing with an old fashioned spelling match. The weather was ideal for a party in the woods, and the ladies voted the hospitality they had enjoyed as ideal as the weather.
